A word From the team L'Artiste C'est Moi

"We invite you to live a unique artistic experience that was designed and built to bring you comfort, well-being and feeling of letting go. In order to make the most of this experience, we suggest you to select, within this catalog, a painting of your choice. Many of our clients vote internally to make sure the choice is made by the majority.

We developed our concept around Tunisian masters who painted the city, nature or portraits, such as Shili, Limam or Ben Salem. Our workshops can also include artwork of international masters who have marked the undeniable currents of painting, such as impressionism and pop art. Among these artists we considered Picasso, Monet, Van Gogh, Frida Kahlo and Lichtenstein.

You can also ask us for advice, we will be happy to guide you. "

«Self-Portrait » of Frida Kahlo

The self-portrait of the Mexican artist Frida Kahlo was painted in 1940. Frida is the only female painter considered among the masters. Her paintings represent the stream of naive art. Frida painted her pain after a terrible bus accident, as well as the oscillations of her tumultuous passion for Diego Rivera. You can revisit this painting by choosing your colors, your keys and your style. Dare to make your Frida!

« Poppies » of Claude Monet

This masterpiece was made by Claude Monet in 1873. The painter revolutionized his time by founding the Impressionist movement. The painting represents the surrounding countryside of Argenteuil, home of Monet at that time. Indulge yourself by painting your field of poppies with beautiful spring colors and impressionist touches of your own.

« Oh, Jeff... i love you, too but... » of Roy Lichtenstein

Oh, Jeff... I Love You, Too But... was made in 1964 by Roy Lichtenstein, one of the founding fathers of pop art in the United States in the 1950s - a trend that redefined all codes of art. The artist was inspired by popular advertising and comics. He only used primary colors and wrote messages on his paintings, inviting the viewer to create a unique universe. Lichtenstein is known for his creative spirit in both technique and style. This painting invites participants to this extraordinary world and seeks the expression of personal touches.

« Paris en automne » Leonid Afremov

In this theme of autumn, we put in the spotlight the work entitled "Paris in autumn" by Leonid Afremov, Belarusian painter of international fame. Leonid Afremov has an unmistakably impressionistic style. His paintings are colorful with a magical light.

« Girl with balloon » Banksy

We have selected for you a very special work that comes from Street Art in this case "Girl with balloon" by Banksy. Banksy's work has created a buzz. It is emotionally charged with great artistic potential. We invite you to revisit this work with your colors and your touch. You will personalize this work by writing your own message. You can even integrate an object of your choice (which you will bring with you) or another material among those will be given to you

« Your self-portrait Warhol Style »

Andy Warhol

Andy Warhol's pop art portraits are essentials in the art world. They are colorful, modern and timeless. We invite you to make your pop art portrait. Choose your colors and have fun combining tones and shades which represent you the most.

Mediterranean Artists: From

Fauvism to Naïve Art

Many painters were charmed by the universe of the Mediterranean basin. We have thus honored artists from the School of Tunis who has for half a century demonstrated its own Mediterranean style imbued with a unique and unusual light. The interpretation of these painters remains attractive with a touch of fauvism if not naïve art. A journey through the chiaroscuro with stops in an Edenic world.

« Sabat Torbet El Bey » of Mahmoud Shili

Sabat Torbet El Bey was made by Mahmoud Shili in 1982. Medina lovers and fans of shadows and lights will release their creativity around overlays and mixtures of colors that will create depths and perspectives.

This painting will attract you by its simplicity and its invitation to dream.

« Une plage de mahdia » of Nouredine Limam

Impressionist techniques and touches of color blend in while respecting a perfect horizon. You will be the artist of your sky and your beach, and burst the color palette. Nouredine Limam painted several landscapes of Mahdia, his hometown, including this beautiful painting of a beach of Mahdia.

« Femme et deux biches » of Aly Ben Salem

Aly Ben Salem is a world famous Tunisian painter with a modern and timeless style. His unique universe evokes scenes of paradise and Eden. His work is composed of several units that repeat themselves. The principal unit is a woman represented in his own way: She has deer eyes, fine features and wears floral clothes. She is accompanied by deer represented on a colored background, decorated with stones, plants and air bubbles. Painting this piece of art is a perfect occasion to tickle your imagination!

« La confection du mechmoum » of Jellal Ben Abdallah

Jellal ben abdallah is one of the pioneers of the school of Tunis. This painting represents a still life. The drawing in this canvas is fine with a sense of details. The colors are soft and delicate. Through this painting, participants will learn different techniques in plastic art. This is a challenge and an excellent opportunity to work on perseverance and surpassing oneself.

Œuvre commune

Abdelaziz Gorgi

A timeless work by the Tunisian painter Abdelaziz Gorgi which represents the artist's world "refreshing and cheerful, but in a cleverly cultivated disorder, an upside-down, a hallucinatory hustle and bustle of color and shapes" (Dorra Bouzid) .The work is divided into 6 small canvases (50cm / 50cm). The participants will have to reconstruct the whole like a puzzle to find harmony and end up with a work that is 1.5m / 1m in the end. Each participant will paint their own small canvas (which is part of the final artwork).Participants have fun reconstructing the puzzle, before starting to paint. They consult each other for each part, for each color of the work, teamwork with a beautiful, fun and friendly atmosphere.
